The country's leading health researchers call obesity the top nutrition problem in the United States. More than half of all adults are overweight and a third are obese, according to the National Institutes of Health, and as many as 20 percent of children are obese. Meanwhile, the Surgeon General's "Report on Physical Activity and Health" found exercise and physical activity among everyone from school-age children to adults to be at an all-time low. And, childhood and adolescent obesity is an increasingly important predictor of adult obesity. This program is designed to produce providers of comprehensive weight management care for children and adolescents who also know when and how to refer patients to other specialists.

The Certificate of Training Offers:

- ◆ cutting edge information and skills shared by leading practitioners in the field
- ◆ cases and exercises to allow hands-on experience
- ◆ valuable resource materials and tools for immediate use and future reference
- ◆ an opportunity to showcase your expertise by earning a Certificate of Training

What's Involved?

There are three components to the certificate of training program.

- ◆ on-line self-study module (including 16 hours of readings, activities, and a pre-test)
- ◆ a 2 1/2 day live workshop
- ◆ a take-home post test—only one opportunity to pass this test.

Since understanding the fundamentals of childhood and adolescent weight management is necessary to actively participate in the workshop, you must pass the pre-test (which is based on the online pre-work materials to attend the workshop. Those who do not obtain a passing score will be notified, and given an opportunity to retest as time permits.

The workshop will focus on practical, interactive learning. It will not repeat the didactic information covered in the self-study module. After successful completion of the full course and the multiple-choice question post-test (taken at home after the course), participants will be awarded a Certificate of Training in Childhood and Adolescent Weight Management, suitable for framing.

All program participants will receive continuing professional education units; however, only those who pass the post-test will receive the certificate.

This is a certificate of training program, not a certification program. Please refer to page 4 of this brochure for a definition of a certificate program. This certificate program is only open to Active, Student, International, International Student, and Retired category members of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and CDR credentialed practitioners—RDN™ and DTR™ Program registration will not be processed until this requirement has been verified.

◆ Program Type

The Certificate of Training in Childhood and Adolescent Weight Management program is a training program, not a certification program. Upon completion of the program, a participant is not awarded a designation or credential. Please note individuals who complete the certificate of training are not certified. The term certification should only be used when referencing the completion of a certification examination such as the Registration Examination for Dietitians. Definitions of a certificate program and a certification program are:

Certificate Program:

A certificate program is an intensive training program with a component that assesses the participant. Upon completion of the program, participants receive a certificate attesting to the attainment of a new knowledge/skill set (e.g., Academy/CDR Certificate Program in Adult Weight Management). Unlike a certification program, participants do not receive a professional designation. Individuals completing a Certificate program receive CPEUs for training and assessment time regardless of whether they pass the post-course assessment and receive the certificate.

Certification Program:

A process, often voluntary, by which individuals who have demonstrated the level of knowledge and skill required in the profession, occupation, role, or skill are identified to the public and other stakeholders.
